

Aaron was born and raised in Southern California and only recently relocated to San Francisco. Since relocating, Aaron has become interested in local literature and was honored to serve as poetry reader and non-fiction editor for the most recent edition of Forum. When Aaron is not teaching, he enjoys reading and writing short fiction.